

Nexterra Ranked One of Canada's Fastest Growing Technology Companies in the Deloitte 2010 Technology Fast 50 Awards

Vancouver, BC – September 23, 2010 –Nexterra Systems Corp. (www.nexterra.ca), a leading supplier of biomass heat and power systems, today announced it has been ranked among the Deloitte 2010 Technology Fast 50TM, a ranking of the 50 fastest growing technology companies in Canada. Nexterra's ranking is based on an increase in revenues of 509 percent from 2005 to 2009. Nexterra has also been named as a member of the 2010 Deloitte Technology Green 15, which honours fifteen companies that are leading the way in the field of green technology.

"Canadian technology companies have demonstrated some very impressive growth numbers over the past year, amid the challenges of an uncertain global economic recovery," said John Ruffolo, National Leader, Technology, Media & Telecommunications Industry Group, Deloitte. "Nexterra is an example of the determination, drive and skill that will serve to position them for further growth and success in the years to come."

Nexterra President and CEO, Jonathan Rhone, credits the company's strategic approach, dedicated team, and growing renewable energy demand with the 509 percent revenue growth over the past five years. "Global demand for renewable energy continues to grow at a dramatic pace," said Rhone. "Nexterra offers a powerful value proposition of reduced customer energy costs and greenhouse gas emissions with a system that offers low lifecycle costs, high efficiency and low air emissions. It's a win-win for everyone."

For over 13 years, the Deloitte Technology Fast 50TM program has tracked the successful growth of Canadian-grown global leaders. Now Canada's pre-eminent technology award program, the Deloitte Technology Fast 50TM augments the broader Deloitte North American Technology Fast 500 initiative, with winners automatically eligible for this elite ranking.
